About The Gulf Stream Council:

The Gulf Stream Council provides the nation’s foremost youth program for character development and values-based leadership training to more than 10,000 youth from kindergarten through high school, and over 2,500 adult volunteer leaders deliver Scouting’s impactful programs to help young people be “Prepared. For Life.” Last year, local Scouts and adult volunteers provided 365,000 hours of community service.

Our programs include: Lion Cubs, Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting, co-ed Venturing, co-ed Varsity Scouts, co-ed Sea Scouts, co-ed career Exploring, and co-ed STEM Scouts.
Putting energy into finding solutions rather than dwelling on discontent can lead the way to successful journeys.

The Need
Meeting the substantial needs of every community is dependent on its citizens to answer the call of volunteerism. There is a natural fit between the Boy Scouts of America and other community organizations, and service learning is an integral part of the Scouting program. As a result, youth and adults seek opportunities to volunteer. Community organizations need volunteers to help them fulfill their missions, and working with these organizations creates a win/win situation for everyone.

The Solution
As stated in the Boy Scout Handbook, some Good Turns are big—saving a life, helping out after storms or other disasters, recycling community trash, or working with others on conservation projects. But Good Turns are often small, thoughtful acts. Scouting and the Gulf Stream Council place a strong emphasis on community service projects.
